WASHINGTON, D. C., MARCH 21, 1881

A BACHELOR'S REFLECTION. BY SEATON MONROE.

I lie in my bachelor chamber, Enveloped in fleecy moonbeams, And dream of you, beautiful woman, Perpetual theme of my dreams.

Had you been as loyal and loving
As I've been, fair woman, to you,
My cup might have held less of wormwood,
This lonely room might have held two.

TONGUE.

-"There's no place like home," repeated Mr. Henpeck, looking at a motto, and he heartily added: "I'm glad there isn't." -The Abbott kiss is thought to be a cross between the suction of a force-pump and the explosion of an over-fermented yeast-jug. -The bee can deliver a stinging retort, and yet keeps its mouth shut. This is where it has the advantage over the campaign orator. -Girls can't raise moustaches, but by benging their hair they manage to show the levellest kind of chin-whiskers on their foreheads. -If an untruth is only a day old, it is called a lie; if it is a year old, it is called a false-hood; but if it is a century old, it is called a legend. -Artist (to a porter)-"You carried my picture to the academy and handed it over to the committee "." Porter—"Yes; and it pleased 'em mightily. It would have done you good to see 'em

-Said a school teacher: "If I have ich apples and give you five and your big brother five, what will be left?" "I'll be left," responded the younger brother; "for he will get away with —Mr. Longfellow can take a worthless sheet of paper and by writing a poem on it make it worth $50. That's genius. Mr. Vanderbilt can write fewer words on a similar sheet and make it worth $50,000,000. That's capital.

-A meddlesome old woman was sneering at a young mother's awkwardness with her infant, and said: "I declare, a woman never ought to have a baby unless she knows how to hold it."
"Nor a tongue either," was the quiet rejoinder." -"I have no patience with a man who can't remember a thing no longer than it's being told him," exclaimed Jones, impatiently. "Now, I can carry a thing in my mind a month, if need be." "You're a lucky dog, Jones," remarked Prendergast quietly; "it isn't everybody that has so much room in his mind as you have, you know." -The unities not preserved : Last Sunday a Galvesion boy came home radiant from Sonday-school and exclaimed: "I was the only boy in my class. All the rest of the boys went down to the milrord to see the circus come in." "That's right, my son." said the proud parent; "never neglect your Sunday-school duties. But did the circus really arrive?" "Of course it did. Didn't -He was an entire stranger to the girls present, and the boys were mean and would not introduce him. He finally plucked up courage and, stepping up to a young lady, requested the pleasure of her company for the next dance. She looked at him in surprise, and informed him that she had not the pleasure of his acquaintance. "Well," remarked he, "you don't take any more chances than I do.' THE LAST OF HIS RACE.

A Strauge, Eventful History-A Bloody

Vendetta. Texas came in, and was informed that an officer was on board who had with him a prisoner whose history was quite remarkable. After a short search the men were found in a forward car. The prisseat, and did not seem to have much interest in the world or the development of Arkansas. He was handcuffed, and did not care to talk. From the officer, however, and himself the events of his strange history were drawn forth, and, having been patched up, made the following: The old man's name is Dahlgren, and he lived before the war in the northern part of Tennessee. His home was a pleasant one, and with his wife and two sons he lived very happily on his farm until a quarrel arose between neighbors. The difficulty was patched, but one of the sons-both of whom had grown to man's estate-conceived that he had been wronged, and one day, while he and his brother were passing along the road in a wagon, they came up with five men, their neighbors, and the quarrel broke out afresh. The young men were courageons, and would not be intimidated by their opponents. Hot words led to blows, and the five men, pulling pistols, fired upon the two baldgren boys and killed them. They then ran away, and, fearing the vengeance of old man Dahlgren, for he was even then considered quite an old man, disappeared from the community. Of course, Dahlgren and his wife were nearly distracted at the sad death of their "boys," of whom they were very proud, and Mrs. Dahlgren never recovered from the blow, but, about the time the war broke out, died, and the husband was left to lament the separation of his family. He conceived the idea that nothing was left in this life for him, except to obtain vengeance on the men who had robbed him of his sons. He devoted the remainder of his life to this purpose. He began systematically to search for the five men, whose names ralled "Black Tom," but whose true name was Lurdy, and one after another was met and killed. He had no scruples, no conscience. His sole object was to put the villains who had made life no object shim out of the way. He took no interest in the war. It mattered not whether the North or South were victors. He shot Myers and Lurdy in Tenessee, and recaped the officers who were set upon his track more was heard of him until last month, when in-

Texas, and there he was arrested. As the prisoner atisticd; have had my revenge, and I do not care what becomes of me. I have nothing more to live for, and I would rather hang than not have 'fixed'

the men who killed my boys." About this time, the train moved off, and the interview closed,- rantion was received that he was in Houston,

cluded what he had to say he remarked: "I am

The Old Virginia Gentleman. Not only is the advent, popularity, and tascal heroism of Senator Mahone, of Virginia, occudent over the Nation, but Virginia customs solicities seem to be popular over the country. Abanquet and reception was given by the Virginia salety of Chicago, at the Palmer House, in that edy, a short time since, which is said to have been suracterized by social brilliancy and Southern saclability. General N. B. Buford is president of his organization, and Hon. J. G. Rogers, of Kenneky, vice-president. The banquet was given in fac ladies ordinary of the Palmer House, where tables were spread. After delicacies were liscussed, the Rev. Dr. Holland delivered the adress, selecting as his subject "The Old Virginia atteman." It is said this gentleman displayed monderful familiarity with the characteristics of Old Virginia Gentleman." Could the Doctor, with prophetic eye, have had a foresight of the buck, moral courage, and heroism of the recent conjunt of the senstorial chair of Virginia? The ablic have had an exhibition of "Old Virginia colleman's" firmness, and have seen that no dicistion, no threats, Innuendoes, or taunts, will be quashed. barne without stifling answer and rebuke

By the distillation of a FOREST LEAF with JUNI-PER Berries and BARLEY MALT we have discovered KIDNEGEN, which acts specifically on the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, removing deposits in the bladder, and any straining, smarting, heat, or irritation of the water passages, giving them strength, vigor, and causing a healthy color and easy flow of urine. It can be taken at all times, in all climates, without injury to the system. Unlike any other proparation for Kidney difficulties, it has a very PLEAS-ANT and AGREEABLE taste and flavor. It contains POSITIVE DIURETIC properties, and will NOT NAUSEATE. LADIES especially will like it, and GENTLEMEN will find KIDNEGEN the best Tonic Beverage, for its purposes ever used. Tonic Beverage, for its purposes, ever used.

NOTICE.—Each label has the signature of LAWRENCE & MARTIN, and each bottle has Government Revenue Stamp (with our name), which permits KIDNEGEN to be sold as a proprietary article (without license) by Druggists, Grocers, and other dealers everywhere.

Put up in Quart-Size Bottles for General and Family Use.

If not found at your Druggist's or Grocer's, we will send a bottle and pamphiets prepaid to the nearest express-office to you. Price, $1, or six bottles for $5.
